

Jose Rojas Cruz Farm

---

JHH T
GAP – FOOD SAFETY LOGS	1	Once a Month WELL/CANAL INSPECTION
	2	NUOCA LOGS
	3	CHEMICAL INVENTORY / SIGH IN-OUT
	4	CHLORINE LOGS
	5	SANITATION LOG (INCL. TOILET HARV AID
	6	APPLICATION RECORDS
	7	Once's a month WATER TESTING
	8	CHEICAL/CALIBRATION LOGS
	9	ONCES A Week TRAINING RECORDS COMPLYINTS FORM
	10	DAILY CHECK (PRE-HARVEST/EQUIP
	11	CONTAMINATED PRODUCTS
	12	LETTER OF GUARANTEE / MSI
	13	REPAIR MAINTENANCE LOG
	14	SELF AUDITS
	15	GAP/GHP

---

Dream Farm

---

Oliver Farms & Scott Family Farm

Wukchumni Farms

Our Sacred Obligation as Caretakers

The Wukchumni Yokutch (People) were created here to be caretakers of this Pa'an (Land). The village of Wuk'nain, located nearby, was also known as the place of the Great Blue Herons. Many Yokutch stayed here when traveling throughout this Amaash Pa'an (Basket World) between the valley floor and the mountains. It is a good place, with Jhdik (Water) from the nearby stream, shade from the K'eml ux (Valley Oak trees), and plenty of food and medicine from trees, plants, animals and fish. Fences and dams are but two of the physical barriers that have disrupted the Wukchumni traditional way of life.

This is the unfolding story of what happens when Native and nonnative people are willing to seek a harmonious way forward, past all the historical and continuing injustices. Welcomed back to the land in 1984, Wukchumni gather here to practice and carry on traditions and ceremonies. In recent years, Wukchumni have participated in governance of Quaker Oaks Farm and partnered with many other community organizations to share history, culture, and traditional land stewardship practices. The continued efforts of the Wukchumni People to keep traditions, language, and culture alive have enriched all aspects of Quaker Oaks Farm by helping us reconnect with nature, learn to respect and care for the land, and recognize our interdependence as human beings.

Shoyum Pa'an

Young Woman, Shoyum Pa'an

Others believe light is high in our people's presence. They are the best people and the best people in the world and spirit of the land. Wukchumni.

Photos: valley oak (Quercus lobata), Laura Lorenz, bedrock mortar with acorns, Kyma Nook

PROTOCOL: The Wukchumni people are many nations. Please use the land to see the traditional and spiritual relationships between people and nature. Please take photographs of people and their possessions at their discretion, and please do not take photos.

ry to the
is region, resources for
erous animals,
ect species.
rock pestles and
au (Cot Baskets) processing stations
us (Acorns).
ally significant,
fundamental role for food,
piritual practices and ories.

---

Yo'Ville Community Garden & Farm

